Product description:

Olympic Rubber Disc O'Live

Used for bodybuilding and toning exercises and high performance lifting, both at home and in the gym

The rubber protects the disc, the supports and the floor. The design integrates spacers that allow the user to place their fingers underneath the plate to allow them to pick them up off the floor and spread them apart when on the bar.

Features:

- Coated with virgin rubber for added protection and better appearance.
 - Safe and easy handling due to three-hole design and inserts.
 - 50mm diameter steel center ring to prevent wear and provide smooth rotation.
 - Easy and visual weight identification. Sold individually
